FORWARD COLLEGE is a novel Higher Education Institution designed for bright students who wish to achieve academic excellence but also nurture their practical, technological, social, and emotional intelligences. We leverage the whole spectrum of human intelligences: cognitive intelligence to analyse and solve complex problems; social intelligence to engage people across different fields of expertise and backgrounds; emotional intelligence to manage one's balance, be mindful of others, and nurture creativity; and practical intelligence to implement projects effectively, harness technology, and deliver lasting change.

Forward college blends tradition (for excellence) and innovation (for relevance):

Our double degree programme combines

- A fully accredited academic BA/BSc designed and awarded by the University of London. All teaching is delivered by Forward College Faculty on campus through a flipped classroom approach.
- A highly innovative Bachelor in Business Leadership (BBL).
- Forward College Students enrol on a rotating programme, spending their first year in Lisbon, their second year in Paris, and their third year in Amsterdam.

Our teaching approach combines

- A bespoke tuition with a student-to-faculty ratio of 10:1 with small group classes (10-12 on average) and weekly one-on-one tutoring (for the academic BA/BSc)
- Innovative approaches such as peer to peer, personal development and project-based learning (for the BBL); digital learning and flipped classroom (for the BSc/BA).

As a Teaching Fellow in Psychology, you will be working closely with the 1st-year programme lead in Lisbon, Dr Gemma Gordon. You will be responsible for

- Translating the curriculum of the University of London BSc in Psychology into Forward innovative teaching approach

- Designing and implementing the flipped classroom sessions throughout the academic year (ca. 10-12 students / class)
- Designing tests and formative assessments that will support students in achieving learning outcomes
- Organising and providing one-on-one tutoring sessions
